THE MUSE

JANUARY 16 - FEBRUARY 28, 2015

OPENING RECEPTION: FRIDAY, JANUARY 16, 5:30 - 7:30PM

Letter from the Executive Director

Dear Members,

Another year is coming to a close and as we head toward winter we naturally think about all we have accomplished thus far in 2014. A major project for MAC was the new acquisition of the 15 Water Street building formally known as the Emporium. As I write this, the extensive renovations are near completion. This beautiful historic building deserved to be saved and as it happens is also contiguous to our property at 9 Water Street. Increasing MAC visibility has always been an important goal, and an ancillary gallery on Water Street will help us to achieve that. We thank those who have shown their generous support and made this dream a reality. Stay tuned as we will soon announce the date for our ribbon cutting event!

Don't forget to purchase your tickets for our Holiday Preview Party on Friday, November 14 from 5:30 – 7:30pm. We invite you to kick off the holiday season with the first look at our Holiday Gift Show, offering fine art and unique craft items by local and regional artists - tax free! The following day, Saturday, November 15 from 11am – 3pm, join us for a new event, our Holiday Market, another chance to shop our Holiday Gift Show, plus craft tables for kids, music and food trucks! The Holiday Gift Show continues 11am – 5pm daily through December 31 (closed Thanksgiving and Christmas) with a changing selection of art and gift items as artists bring in new work. Every sale helps to support MAC programming, as well as supporting local artists and artisans.

Speaking of support, have you contributed to the MAC Annual Fund yet? The end of the year is a perfect time to support the non-profit organizations in your community. Without you we could not do all that we do!

Lastly, I want to encourage our younger artists to submit to NextGen, our newest exhibition for artists ages 18 to 35, opening on February 6, 2015, in conjunction with our winter party, MAC's Mix Masquerade. See page 3 for more details, and page 15 for a full prospectus. NextGen is not only an exhibition for artists, but a full level of events, programs, and discounts geared toward all millennials interested in and appreciative of art. I encourage millennials to take advantage of this opportunity to become MAC members and to support your peers!

Wishing you a warm, healthy, and joyful holiday season,

Karen Barthelson
Executive Director

New Acquisition for Permanent Collection

MAC was very fortunate to have recently acquired a beautiful painting by one of our founding artists, George A. Thompson. The painting, A Grey Morning on the Mystic River, painted in 1913, was donated by Mr. Heaton Robertson.

NextGen

Several of MAC's founders were under forty years old when our organization came to be. Charles Davis was fifty-seven when he founded MAC and worked side by side with younger co-founders, creating a continuity of community that nurtured artists for generations to come. Younger artists serve as a reflection on the unique issues and identity of their generation, often asking questions and generating ideas. Their aesthetic may come from a combination of influences, including the styles and subject matter of generations that precede them. The work that we see from young artists today may not stand the test of time, but will evolve into a visible measure of their creative growth. MAC seeks to broaden our young artist community and better represent the scope of the art world today.

To that end, MAC's NextGen campaign will include events and exhibitions tailored to the interests of young artists and art enthusiasts ages 18 to 35, kicking off with the NextGen Exhibition, an all-media juried exhibition specifically for those artists. MAC seeks artists who have a unique style, process, and vision. We encourage high school students, college students, and working artists within the age range to enter. The show will run for three weeks in February with an opening reception occurring in conjunction with Mix Masquerade, our winter masquerade party on Friday, February 6th. Look for events which offer discounted membership for the NextGen community.

2014 ANNUAL FUND

As Mystic Arts Center 101st year comes to a close, we still seek your support to develop the next generation of artists and to help advance the future of arts in our community. Your contribution to our 2014 Annual Fund invests in creativity, culture, and community activities for regional audiences. Please consider making a tax-deductible donation this year and help realize our goals for the future. Your gift makes a difference.

CREATIVITY

MAC offers arts education for nearly 3,000 children and adults annually in our studios on the Mystic River. Our art exhibitions provide artists of all levels and styles the opportunity to show their work in a museum-quality setting. MAC exhibited nearly 1,200 pieces of local and regional art in 2013.

CULTURE

Cultural events at MAC broaden the arts experience. Events such as our Langston Hughes Poetry Reading, Art After Dark, MIX, and Art in the Evening stimulate discussion and spark connections. MAC welcomed over 19,500 visitors last year.

COMMUNITY

MAC's programming extends into the community with education outreach connecting art with school curricula. MAC instructors travel to classrooms or teach onsite in our galleries and studios. We worked with over 2,700 students in 2013 from 24 area schools. Our Young At Art (YAA) Exhibition allows children from the area, 18 and under, to have a piece of art displayed in our gallery. In 2014, YAA exhibited 954 individual and 19 group entries.

Robert Greene: Solo Sculpture Exhibition

January 16 – February 28, 2015

MAC Spotlights Robert Greene's Intriguing Work

By Karen Barthelson

Robert Greene's solo exhibit, Frenetic Composure, represents his interest in the figure and is inspired by as he states, "...the activity of the human mind..." and "...deals primarily with the human condition...".

What drew me to Robert's work and what I found so surprising is how his pieces, while made of sticks of wood, manage to have an organic feel to them, particularly the figures. The figure stands still while the wood pieces forming the figure appear to be moving in various directions, giving it a frantic energy.

Robert lives in Ledyard, Connecticut and currently teaches at Eastern Connecticut State University, Willimantic, Connecticut, where he received his undergraduate degree in sculpture in 2006. He went on to earn his MFA in sculpture at the University of Massachusetts Dartmouth in North Dartmouth, MA in 2010, and stayed to teach in the 3D department for two years until 2012.

Robert has been gaining some recognition exhibiting mostly in Connecticut and Massachusetts. He has won awards, has works in many private collections and was mentioned in a Boston Globe article "Stand Out Students" in 2013.

While active with his own work at his Ledyard studio and at the Noank Foundry Robert also enjoys teaching. He explained "...everybody has the creative potential; there is nothing more rewarding than seeing a student's excitement when they discover exactly what they can make with their own hands".

Thank you Robert, we agree!
