Book a field trip, classroom visit, or professional development day with Mystic Museum of Art to inspire creativity, exercise visual literacy, and train skills required by the Common Core state standards.

About Us

Mystic Museum of Art was founded as an artist colony led by Charles H. Davis in 1913. Mystic was one of three Connecticut artist colonies formed at this time. The presence of Davis attracted other artists to Mystic and eventually Mystic Museum of Art was founded as a hub for their activities and community engagement. The Permanent Collection at MMoA tells the story of artists who traveled to Mystic and other Connecticut towns in the late 19th and early 20th centuries for inspiration. Our galleries feature a permanent collection of these locally-significant 20th century artists as well as changing exhibitions of regional contemporary artists.

Field Trips to MMoA

Field Trips involve collaborative discussions in MMoA's galleries and a related hands-on studio project. Students exercise Common Core speaking, listening, and writing skills using artwork as a catalyst. Writing activities are included in the gallery while the studio art project focuses on the idea of the written word and language.
